A Legacy of Sisterhood

It's the late night chats, the knock on your door at 3 a.m. of a friend in need, the quick trips to the store and the chatter of girls down the hall that you will miss more than anything. Memories of sisters sharing moments together though good times and bad times. As we travel down the road of life, think back to the time you've spent with your sisters, how much they meant to you and how words could never express how you truly feel. Surpass what is expected of you. Siese every moment, seek out every opportunity, for if you wait for that perfect moment you may one day find it is too late. Remember always, you have my love and support and we have our friendship.

Opening Convocation

On this evening, like our sisters who have gone before us, Opening Convocation marks the beginning of a new year, one filled with tradition and sisterhood. Seniors wear their caps and gowns for the first time, following in the footsteps of Salem sisters, wearing brightly decorated, outrageous shoes in honor of the legacy before them. Students are recognized for their accomplishments in the previous year, and freshmen take part in the first of many traditions before them.

"If we take care of the moments, the years will take care of themselves."

Academy Award-Winning Best Pictures

"It's not just letters, parties and good times. It is a feeling that will never leave you as long as you live. It is a responsibility and a duty to yourself and you sisters. It is an eternal love."

The entire campus was woken up at 5 a.m. the morning of Fall Fest, one of the most anticipated events of the year. Students joined together as classes competed in Cheers and Chants, T-Shirts, Decorations, Parade, Spirit and Skit.

To go along with this year's theme of "Academy Award-Winning Pictures," Seniors selected The Godfather, Juniors Braveheart, Sophomores The Sound of Music and Freshmen West Side Story as their respective themes.

Freshmen won Spirit; Sophomores took T-Shirts; Juniors conquered the Skits; Seniors swept Cheers and Chants, Decorations and Parade to win Fall Fest overall.

After weeks of planning and a full day of events, students were ready for the after party signaling the end of what was for some their first and some their last Fall Fest ever.

A New Chapter Begins...

Excitement fills the air as a new chapter of the Salem sisterhood begins. The bonds of our family begin with the tradition of Big Sister Little Sister. Dating far back in our history Juniors have joined together to help introduce their new sister class to their new lives at Salem, thus becoming their "big sisters."

For the next two years the Juniors will introduce thier new sisters to Salem's traditions and act as advisors and confidants. This new family will share joys and sorrow, laughs and tears in a connection that will last far beyond their years at Salem. Years from now they will remember the great times they shared and the memories they took with them.

Thus, the Big Sister, Little Sister ceremony celebrates the new and everlasting ties of comradeship. This newfound sisterhood will continue throughout their Salem experience and create a legacy of friendship and love that they will remember for the rest of their life.

1. The new Chapter of the Salem Sisterhood gether the first of many memories together.

2. Spending time together allows Junior, Rebekah Jordan and, Freshman, Anna Darrivan to get to know each other.

3. Junior, Jennifer Culler and, Freshman, Ashley Willard celebrate sisterhood.

FALL MEMORIES

The fall semester got off to a great start with the first party of the year, Fall Lawn hosted by Big 3+3. Virginia-based band Carbon Leaf performed a stellar concert in the May Dell while many students decided to take a ride on the mechanical bull. As the semester went on friends continued to make memories and share special times together as they grew closer in sisterhood. Freshman started the year with the Honor Code signing while Seniors began their last year at Salem. Juniors prepared for their little sister and Sophomores

B.A.D.U.

Black Americans Demonstrating Unity (B.A.D.U.) began as a collaborative effort by a small, yet proud group of African American students at Salem. B.A.D.U. serves as a catalyst for change with respect to racial diversity at Salem College by beseeching fellow young adults to participate in the effort to promote an understanding of racial equality and an appreciation for racial differences. The organization not only provides an outlet for African American students, but it also functions as an educator for the Salem College and Winston-Salem communities regarding the African American culture.

Emily Buckmaster

Emmy,

It seems like only yesterday that you were going off the bus stop on your first day of kindergarten and telling me you did not need me to walk with you. "I can do it myself!" has been your mantra since you learned to speak. You were certainly no different the day we left you on the Salem campus in August of 2001 with you imploring us to "Go, just go, I can do this myself," and of course you have successfully completed this part of your life. Daddy, Brittany, Sally, Suzanne and I are so proud of you. Emmy, you have truly been 'the icing on our cake' and we love you more than you will ever know. Daddy and I both admire you for the beautiful, responsible adult you have become and we know that you will continue to be a blessing not only to us, but also to the world in which we live. We miss you being around to keep us all in line, but we are excited for all the adventures that await you in this big wonderful world. Know that you have our love and support in whatever endeavor you embark upon. Congratulations dear and precious one.

Love from all of us,

Daddy, Mom, & sisters, Brittany, Sally, and Suzanne

I asked for strength and abilities that I might do great things.

I was given adversity and infirmity, the humbling realization of absolute need of Him and of obedience to Him, that He might do great things through me.

2007 Goal ~ Master's Degree in Theology

2013 Goal ~ MD, Surgeon

Aspiration ~ Missionary Doctor

Faith is belief in what we do not see. Oh! What a glorious reward to at last see what we believed.

Dear Lori,

"In Christ, you are a new person. You are not the same anymore, for the old life is gone. A new life has begun!" (2 Corinthians 5:17)

Although I am blessed to claim you as my own, your life is a splendid torch I was privileged to hold but for a moment, and now belongs to future generations. Trust your unknown future to the known God and it will be as bright as His promises. The great news is, it only comes one day at a time and He is with you every step of the way. "You must persevere so that when you have done the will of God, you will receive what He has promised." (Hebrews 10:36)

You will persevere, Lori, for you have learned to apply the rule of determination: Fall nine times, get up ten times.

I am so very proud of you. I always have been...always will be.

With all my love,

Mom

This Bridge

*This Bridge will only take you halfway there
To those mysterious lands you long to see:
Through gypsy camps and swirling Arab fairs
And moonlit woods where unicorns run free.
So come and walk a while with me and share
The twisting trails and wondrous worlds I've known.
But this bridge will only take you halfway there--
The last few steps you'll have to take alone.*

Congratulations,
Fabala!

unlimited, your future is unlimited...

long, long last receive your due long overdue!

Don't accept limits, just because someone says they are so, some things you cannot change, but till you try you'll never know.

So it's time to try defying gravity-and we couldn't be happier!

Love,

Angela,
How fast the years have passed.
You are God's special blessing to us.
You have been the light of our lives;
the joy of our years. We pray your dreams of today become reality and that God blesses you and watches over you.
Remember; always let your light shine!!!!

Love you lots,
Mom & Dad

To Our Daughter, the Journalist,
We knew from the beginning that you were special.
We have tried to teach you to be your own person and that you can succeed in all that you do. You have set your goal and have gone after it. We are so PROUD of you for who you are and what you have accomplished.

Love always,
Mom and Dad

Baby Just Look at You Now!

Crystal,
Just to let you know that we are all proud of you. Encouragement and celebration to you, for reaching your goal of becoming a journalist.
May the world always be an open space of new discoveries.
We love you.

We enjoyed having Christy stay with us during January while she did her internship with the Charlotte Observer. She's very witty in a nice way and lots of fun to be around. She was also a shock because we've never had a young person here before with good common sense. Also very important, she's Roscoe approved. We all miss her.

Christie,
You are a very speical niece ,
smart in school.
Very concerned and considerate of family and friends.
We are all proud of you.
Aunt Frances and family.

"CONGRADULATIONS"

Where did the time go? Just yesterday a little pixie was riding her bike - today she's a beautiful young woman with an exciting and brilliant future. We love you and wish you wonderful things.

Due to rain Founders Day Convocation was held inside Hanes Auditorium. Faculty, along with the speakers, sat on the stage while seniors of both the Academy and College were front and center

A little rain won't drown out the spirit in these seniors. Lindsey Wise, Christina Gisert and Stephanie Kliebert show off their sun glasses, a founders day tradition.

Seniors, Lauren Good and Stephanie Ellis proceed in smiling with their caps and gowns as they look forward to graduation.

Sophomore, Yasmine Singh, senior, May Tanthana, and juniors, Silva Mathema and Anita Singh.

Even though the ceremony was held inside, these seniors had nothing but smiles on their faces as they walked in.

Faculty and Staff looked at the farewell present to Dean Wilson-Oyelaran for her numerous years of service and dedication as vice president to Salem Academy and College. This was her final year at Salem as she set off to assume presidency at Kalamazoo College in Michigan.

Traditions at Salem are everywhere and at every event. Here Mary Barnhardt shows off her homemade sun glasses, a Founders Day tradition. Other students also wore their glasses even though the celebration was moved inside.

Sights & Insights

To the staff of the wonderful 2004-2005

Sights & Insights,

Thank you so much for being a part of this grand adventure. Throughout our many struggles of academic life you committed yourself to being part of and creating A Legacy of Sisterhood.

A special thanks goes out to Dr. Carol Dykers, Stephanie Ellis and Kristen Lord for always being there when I needed someone to talk to. For all those times I had computer problems thank you Richard Clark for always being around. Seniors, Margo and Wanda thanks for being great photographers. To the best lil sis, Andrella McCoy, thanks for all your help and good luck next year. Last but not least Sarah Williams, shine bright and embrace tradition.

In three words I can sum up everything I've learned about life: It goes on!" Robert Frost

Donna Holder

Dedication

The 2004-2005 Sights and Insights yearbook is dedicated in memory of Donna Holder.

Throughout her 34 years Donna was always a student. Whether she was taking classes at Elon University, Winston-Salem State University or working here at Salem College in the lab; she was always willing to learn and teach students.

Donna even taught a lab course at Salem for students who were not biology majors. Donna believed that education is a very important factor in achieving one's goals in life; a wisdom she instilled in students.

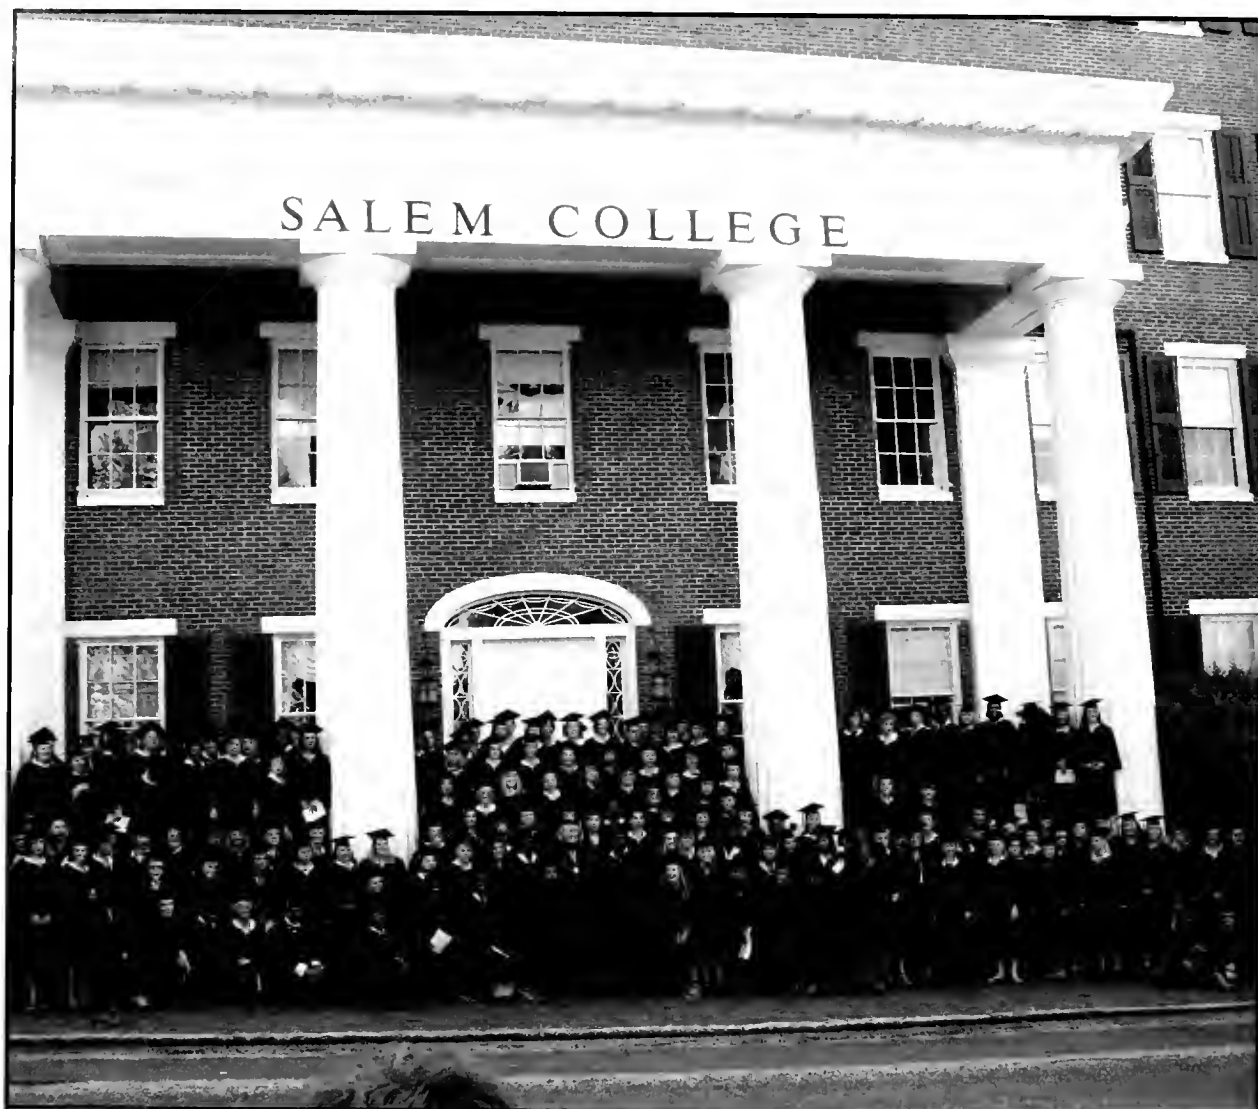

The students and staff at Salem College along with her family and friends miss her dearly and are very proud of all that she accomplished.

A plaque in memory of Donna was hung in the Science Building at Salem College. Another plaque was given to Donna's husband, Ben Holder, and their children Graham and Cameron.

Friends Until The End

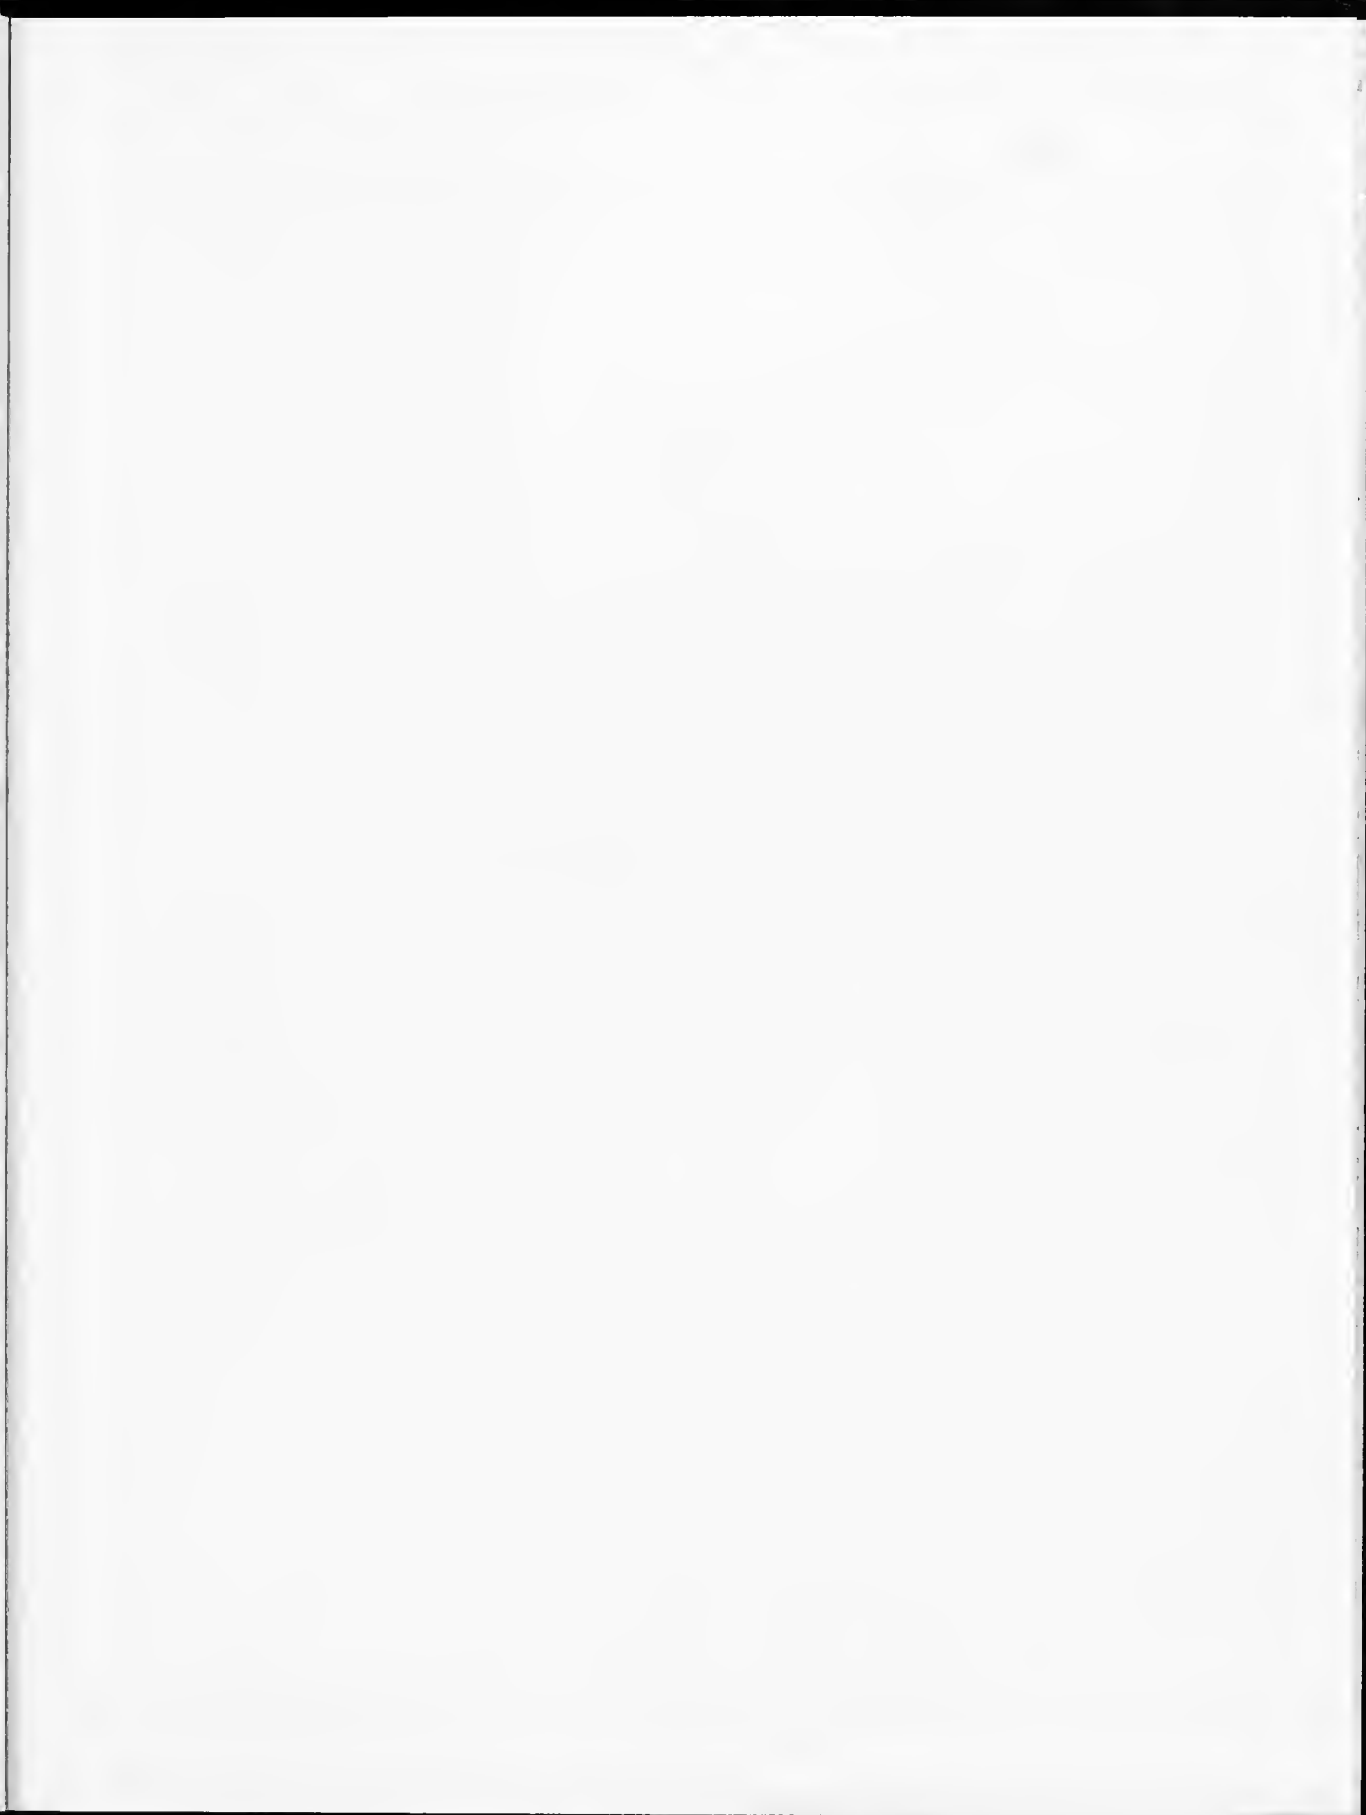

*We used to talk
We used to laugh
We were best of friends
I thought that's how it would always be
You taught me so much Told me exactly what to say
I wish it were still the same
But someday I know it will Maybe not today
But we'll meet up again
It won't be long until I see your face
In Heaven that marvelous day
